President's Message:

Presidents message-

It's hot out there so make sure you hydrate with plenty of water and some Gatorade. Even the water temperature at the beaches is in the ninety's. If you hunt at night beware that many beaches have turtle nests awaiting the hatchlings to come out and head for the water. If you are using a headlamp, it's possible you may receive a fine from the FWC or police from $500 up to $1000. The nesting season ends on October 31st. Be smart and safe out there.

Editor's

worth:

Recently, club member Denise K and I were metal detecting Clearwater beach at night when we said hello to another detectorist we ran into sweeping the beach. During the conversation he said he doesn't usually hunt the beaches as he hunts school properties, but he also said he liked to hunt at night as it is cooler and I asked how he was able to hunt local St. Pete schools at night as they are all fenced and he nonchalantly said "Oh I just jump the fences." Well, that ended that conversation.

Folks, we ALL represent our hobby AND our club. Follow the rules and ethics of metal detecting and be a great representative of our wonderful hobby and our respected club.
