Tom's Tips

Boy! It sure stinks getting old. This week I had a severe senior moment. I decided to get an early start on the newsletter and when I started I realized that our meeting is this Monday. Maybe it was the Easter Bunny messing with me or maybe just too much chocolate darkening my brain cells. Non-the-less here is an abbreviated newsletter.

Our speaker will be Jim Thobe doing a presentation on Sting-Ray safety. I asked Jim to do this before the water get much warmer and a lot of you will be getting in with little or no protection on your feet and ankles.

Anyway, see you Monday.

I am going to mention it again so you get it on your calendar:

Our May Meeting will be on May 21st due to Bill Jackson's being closed on Memorial Day
